Food Safety and Handling in Schools

At the P&C meeting we asked if our volunteer parents for the canteen could complete the free online canteen food handling course and supply the school with the completed certificate.

Changes to the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code introduced new requirements for businesses that prepare and serve food in NSW.

Standard 3.2.2A introduces 3 tools for businesses handling and serving unpackaged, ready-to-eat food requiring temperature control, depending on their activities:

1. Have a qualified Food Safety Supervisor.
2. Ensure all food handlers are trained.
3. Be able to demonstrate safe food practices.

The Standard applies to most businesses from 8 December 2023. School canteens, children's services providing food, supermarkets, greengrocers, delis, coffee vendors selling food, boarding schools and correctional centres have until 8 December 2024 to comply.

The following two links have been provided. One for a Food Safety Supervisor and the other link for Food Handlers. You can choose to do both or just the Food Handler training.

Thank you for your support in running a compliant, safe, hygienic school canteen.
